

APPEAL TO PATRIOTS

BERT P. WOODARD DECLARES NOW IS THE TIME FOR 100 PER CENT AMERICANISM

To the Glendale Evening News: Another crucial test has come to our government and the President has met it promptly and positively just as he has met all others since America entered the war.

Diplomatic appeals for an armistice coming from a treacherous foe have been promptly rejected. There has not been the slightest cessation in any of the various branches of the war activities of our Government, neither has the transportation of men, munitions or supplies decreased in the slightest.

The so-called peace propaganda has increased rather than diminished the activities and ardor of our leaders both upon the field of battle and at home.

Our country is today in the throes of a deadly epidemic the origin of which we can not explain. Public meetings have been prohibited by our Boards of Health and it therefore behooves the individual to remember that he should not wait for some four-minute man or some other patriotic citizen to stir him to the point of buying bonds. Don't wait for the patriotic fever of the other fellow to rouse you to action. Now is the time for the one hundred per cent American to show his patriotism.

The fourth Liberty Loan must be fully subscribed during the present week. Go voluntarily to your bank, to your precinct captain, or to the Liberty Loan headquarters on Brand boulevard and thus add your approval and assistance to America's final answer to the bloodthirsty enemy of civilization.

BERT P. WOODARD.

DEATH OF WALTER W. CRAIG

Death came last Saturday, October 12th, 1918, to Walter W. Craig at his home in San Gabriel canyon. He was the husband of Luella W. Craig, a sister of Mrs. Olin Spencer of this city, and was the brother of Mrs. A. B. Johnson of Pasadena, who was his nearest of kin. More than thirty-five years ago he and his wife came to Southern California and located in Pasadena where they continued to reside until about seven years ago when they made a new home in San Gabriel canyon. Funeral services, which were private, were held Monday at 1 p. m. at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors.

QUESTIONNAIRES FOR NURSES

Dr. R. E. Chase, Chairman of the Nursing Survey Committee, is grateful for the assistance rendered him in obtaining the necessary information regarding the names of nurses. To each nurse has been sent a questionnaire, with request that it be properly filled out and returned at once. But if in the effort to obtain all names, some have been omitted, kindly send word to Dr. Chase, 103A South Brand boulevard, so he may have questionnaires sent promptly. This is the manner the government has adopted to make a thorough canvass of the entire country for nurses, nurses' aids, and any who have any knowledge of nursing that may be used in a practical way.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

MRS. T. W. PRESTON TELLS OF ORGANIZED WORK OF PRESBYTERIAN AID SOCIETY

Editor Glendale Evening News

On May 7th last at a regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, the question of taking up a special branch of war relief work was brought up. As many of the members were already doing Red Cross work of different kinds, such as knitting, making hospital garments or surgical dressings, it seemed best that the work taken up should be of a character that could be largely done at home. It was decided to enlist for service under the banner of the Junior Red Cross and help with the making over and mending of the relief garments in the conservation department. Mrs. A. D. McCoy and Mrs. R. A. Peterson were appointed by the president, Mrs. W. S. Carmichael, to arrange for work at the headquarters. They have faithfully done this work preceding each meeting, of which there have been fifteen held since May 14. During the vacation period a meeting was held every Tuesday, but in order not to conflict with so many other meetings, the day has been changed to Thursday. An itemized account of pieces of work done is not kept, as the articles are many and varied, but the women are glad to report to date 862 articles of clothing made or mended and put in shape for immediate use. Included in this number were 161 articles contributed by the workers themselves.

There is more work than can be done by the women who volunteer and we take this opportunity to again urge all women of the Presbyterian Church to come to these meetings when we are again able to hold them or get in touch with the society and work will be furnished to be done at home.

At the meeting of the Aid Society on October 1st, it was voted to subscribe for a $50 bond of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

MRS. T. W. PRESTON, Secretary.

FUNERAL OF CLARENCE BALL

Private Ed Gibson of Hawthorne street, this city, who was sent as the military escort of the body of Clarence Ball, from Camp Colt to this city, arrived in Glendale last night. On account of some unavoidable delay the body will not reach here until tonight. Funeral services, which will be private on account of the influenza epidemic, will be held Thursday afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. While it will be a disappointment to his many friends to be deprived of the privilege of paying a personal tribute of respect, their sympathies will go out to the sorrowing family.

NEWS OF THE TARR FAMILY

Mrs. O. W. Tarr of this city, who was associated with Dr. A. W. Teel for four years as nurse and assistant, is now completing a course which she started last year in Chicago. She goes daily to the College of Ophthalmology in Los Angeles to fit herself as a specialist on the eye. If she is needed in the army, she may go overseas.

She reports that her son, Leslie R. Tarr, a Glendale High School boy, now at Gosport, Miss., in the navy, has just taken his fourth medical examination and has the rank of Pharmacist Mate. He has been in the navy for more than a year and in the hospital corps for about eight months. At the time he entered the navy he was studying law.

This afternoon the America is lying on her starboard side partly submerged. An investigation has been started by naval authorities.

APPROVES PRESIDENT'S ANSWER

LONDON PRESS AND PUBLIC IS ENTHUSIASTIC IN ENDORSEMENT OF WILSON'S LATEST NOTE TO GERMANY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 15.—President Wilson's answer to Germany's peace proposal has been approved enthusiastically by the London press and public.

The president in his reply says that no arrangement can be accepted for an armistice which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the allies in the field; that no armistice can be considered so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhumane practices which they still persist in.

Enumerating some of the inhuman acts in which Germany is even now engaged both on land and sea, the president says the nations arrayed against Germany can not be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while such acts are being committed.

He calls attention to the language and intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted and which was contained in the president's address at Mount Vernon on July 4: "The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or if it can not be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency."

NEW RULING FOR MARRIED MEN

FACT THAT A WOMAN IS SELF SUPPORTING NOT SUFFICIENT TO PLACE HUSBAND IN CLASS I

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, October 15.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today notified the Adjutant General that the mere fact that a man's wife is working and is self supporting is not sufficient to place her husband in Class I for the draft.

This ruling is taken to mean that no man married previous to the passage of the draft law shall be placed in Class I unless he volunteers.

BOHEMIA AND MORAVIA WANT INDEPENDENCE

CZECHO-SLOVAKS BELIEVED TO BE PREPARING FOR FINAL REVOLT AGAINST AUSTRIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ZURICH, October 15.—Dispatches arriving today report that a general political strike has started in Moravia and Bohemia. Important demonstrations are said to have taken place at Prague favoring independence.

Members of the House of Deputies declared the outbreak marked the start of the final act of revolution.

Bohemia and Moravia are Austrian provinces inhabited by Czecho-Slovaks whose independence President Wilson recently recognized. It has long been believed that the disintegration of Austria and the revolt against the Hapsburgs would begin in these provinces.

AMERICANS ADVANCE TWENTY MILES

CO-OPERATING WITH THE FRENCH IN THE CHAMPAGNE REGION THE YANKS MAKE GAINS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 15.—The French today took Barentom-Cel, 6 miles north of Laon, and crossed the Aisne west of Grandpre, seizing Olizy and Termes.

The Americans yesterday occupied Romaine and Cunelle following a heavy attack after an all night bombardment.

The Americans co-operating with the French in the Champagne region have advanced twenty miles in the three days ending Sunday night.

This morning American troops supported by tanks fought stubbornly forward between Argonne and the Meuse, seizing additional German positions.

The weather is cold and wet.

Last night the American sector was under a heavy bombardment from German guns, but at daylight this morning the Americans silenced the German artillery.

CHANGE IN UNIFORM

U. S. ARMY WILL DISCARD KNEE BREECHES AND WEAR LONG TROUSERS

A practice in the matter of army clothing which has been in effect ever since the Spanish-American War is to be changed, and hereafter our soldiers, in common with our sailors and marines, will wear long trousers instead of knee breeches. It appears that the practice of wearing khaki uniforms was introduced into the army by Roosevelt's Rough Riders, and that the demonstration of the practical utility of the material made by the men of that famous organization caused khaki to be adopted a little later by the entire army. Soon knee breeches were also adopted on the theory that, used in connection with leggings, they would facilitate the mounting of infantry and the dismounting of cavalry in case of necessity. It was considered also that they would be more comfortable and permit greater freedom of movement than the long trousers. These theories, however, seem to have been proven erroneous by the arduous experiences which our men have been called upon to face in Europe, and it has been officially announced that the change "is to be effected as soon as the Quartermaster General's Office can get the necessary supply of the new-style garments to the men overseas." It is also announced that the trousers "will be tighter around the lower leg than was the fashion with the old army trousers, since they are to be habitually worn with spiral leggings adopted for the men of the expeditionary force, and will probably be of the same general character and appearance as the trousers worn by men of the French infantry." This will enable the men, when not on duty, to remove the leggings as do the members of the Marine Corps.

The change will be welcomed by the men of the army, as it will add to their comfort when off duty and will also improve their general appearance at such times.

A PERSONAL LETTER MOST IMPORTANT TO YOU

The Public School Teachers of the 9th Congressional District of California have the first opportunity they have ever had to send to Congress a man who can and will represent their personal interests—Mr. Montaville Flowers. He is in full sympathy with you and your work. He began his career as a public school teacher and has had large experience in all grades of school from the country school to the superintendency of city schools, as well as in higher institutions.

His acquaintance with public school and college men throughout the United States is not exceeded by that of any living man; he has addressed as many high schools, colleges and universities as any living man, and his educational leadership is already established.

Mr. Flowers is held in especial high favor by the men at the head of the National Educational Association, as will be seen from the letter addressed to him by its Secretary, J. W. Crabtree. The school journalism of the United States recognizes his strength as is shown by the telegram from A. E. Winship, editor of the New England Journal of Education, Boston. These leaders of educational interests expect Mr. Flowers, as soon as he gets to Washington, to take up the work of promoting your cause, and they want you to send him there. To vote for him is practical common sense.

In his platform issued in July and in addresses before the Primary, Mr. Flowers declared himself clearly and forcibly for many great advances in your behalf. He is perfectly competent to do this work and ambitious to do it. He authorizes us to print the following statement, which you will observe accords with the declaration of principles made by the National Education Association at their last great convention in July, 1918. Mr. Flowers said:

"I believe that the most alarming shortcoming in our system of education which has been revealed by the war, is the fact that the different states do not offer to the children of school age equal and adequate school opportunities. No community should train its pupils for citizenship for that community alone, or for that county or for that state alone; but every school, whether in lonely mountain or crowded city, must train every pupil to be efficient as an American citizen anywhere and everywhere. Therefore full and equal provision for such training is imperative in all the states.

"When the subject of the improvement of education is discussed, men and women usually think and talk only of the further development of higher education in colleges and universities. I take quite the other end of it. The higher institutions are competent to develop as time requires, and are able to secure the funds to do so; but it is the great numbers, the millions of boys and girls at the bottom of the educational ladder whose interests I am anxious to promote; the sons and daughters of laborers, of craftsmen and all of those of modest means, who must depend upon the state and the nation for their educational opportunities until they develop in themselves the strength and the means to go on up. I was one of these. My sympathies are with these and to them I will dedicate my time and labor.

"I believe that the national government should establish a uniform, minimum standard of training in education, health and service for citizenship. It should provide the means to accomplish that. Also, a minimum standard of preparation and compensation for teachers should be established and maintained. This can be done through national financial aid to the states, which shall not in any way weaken the local authority or power of states and communities to control and direct their schools.

"I am in favor of a uniform increase in the salaries paid to public school teachers so that the public schools can command the choicest young men and young women of the nation to enter the profession and hold them for a life career. The Department of Labor reports that of women who are entering the higher paid war industries, the largest number are school teachers and servants. The industries offer them larger salaries.

The average annual salary of teachers in the United States is less than $600.00; even in the cities of more than 10,000 population the average salary is not above $800.00. Now the Railroad Wage Commission states that $1400.00 a year is the minimum amount on which a man can live and do his best. If we want competent teachers to create a high quality of citizenship, we must raise the standard of salaries until we pay enough money to attract and hold in the public schools the most competent men and women in America.

"In no department of American life are such enormous changes necessary and likely to occur as in the educational field.

"If I am sent to Congress it will be a service of joy to assist in bringing about a new era in public education, and therefore I shall propose and stand for a National Department of Education in which shall be gathered and correlated all the work of education now distributed through various departments. I shall stand for a Secretary of Education in the cabinet of the President, who shall do for education what the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, and other secretaries have been able to do in their respective departments.

MONTAVILLE FLOWERS.
 The public school teachers of the Ninth Congressional District can hope for nothing from the present incumbent in Congress along any of the lines herein laid down. But by sending Montaville Flowers to Congress, Southern California will get the recognition which it should have for its higher advance in education, and the Ninth Congressional District will contribute to the new development of education one of the strongest men the nation has, in intelligence, in executive ability, influence, who will lead the advances which the whole teaching profession is now anxious to make.

The following letter and telegram should be sufficient to convince any teacher of the accuracy of the statements we have made. It is practical common sense for teachers to promote their cause by sending a personal representative of their interests to the Congress of the United States. All of you should vote for Montaville Flowers and secure his support of your friends for him. This is your first professional interest; you will find it equally the interest of all parents as well. The Executive Secretary of the National Education Association of the United States writes:

"My dear Mr. Flowers:
 "It pleases me to know that you are a candidate for a seat in Congress. Knowing as I do of your early struggles and of all the hardships with which you had to contend in getting your education, and knowing as I do of your present success in the educational and business world, of your remarkable ability and your loyalty as an American, and your devotion to worthy causes, I can not help writing you and wishing that you may secure the place.
 "I wish I were near enough to be of help to you in this campaign. Kindly refer to me the educators who wish to know about you. It will give me great pleasure to write them personally in your behalf.

"I want you to win in this campaign, for if you are in Congress, we can depend upon you to be a leader in educational matters in Congress, to bring about the vast changes and developments of national education after the war.

Very sincerely yours,
 (Signed) J. W. CRABTREE,
 Secretary National Educational Association, Washington, D. C."

The veteran educator, Dr. A. E. Winship, sent the following telegram to Mr. Flowers:
 "Your friends the country over rejoice that Southern California has an opportunity to send to Congress a man personally, patriotically and scholarly the equal of any man in that body. Never was there greater need of a man of your ability and national influence in Congress.

Aug. 6, 1918.
 (Signed) A. E. WINSHIP,
 Editor New England Journal of Education, Boston, Mass."

Montaville Flowers has been signally honored by the teachers of Los Angeles City and County. In February, 1917, The School Masters Club of Los Angeles, in recognition of his abilities and services in education, elected him to Life Membership in the Club.

Those specially interested should call or write at once to "The Montaville Flowers for Congress Headquarters," Angelus Hotel, Los Angeles.

A "SCRAP OF PAPER"

At ten minutes past seven in the evening of the fourth of August, 1914, within the four grim walls of the Berlin Foreign Office, there transpired a twenty-minute interview, the most dramatic of which history holds record. "Will Britain," queried the German Chancellor, "fight just for a scrap of paper?" The British Ambassador made terse reply, "That solemn compact simply has to be kept." For that "scrap of paper" was the public law of Europe guaranteeing the independence and neutrality of the Belgian nation. Eighty-three years ago Britain had signed. And, whatever the consequences, the mightiest of empires was tossed into the melting-pot of a world-war. Belgium also had subscribed. Would she, too, risk all for honor? Her reply was sealed in blood on the ramparts of Liege; and, forthwith, Devastation laid waste her smiling fields and piled her cities in smoking ruins. An empire in arms, a country in ashes, a nation homeless—and all for a "scrap of paper!" Magna Charta, too, was but a "scrap of paper," but it was the earliest monument of Anglo-Saxon freedom.

- The Declaration of Independence was only a bit of parchment—but it heralded the birth of the American nation. Just such scraps of paper have marked the milestones in mankind's upward climb to freedom. Mortgages, bonds, debentures, promissory notes—all are but scraps of paper. But no self-respecting man and no honest corporation can wantonly repudiate such commitments. As it lies in your drawer or your safe, your life assurance policy measures but four inches by nine. It, too, is only a "scrap of paper." But that scrap of paper bears the corporate seal of some life company whose assets are its sufficient guarantee of payment. In times like these it may easily spell the salvation of business. Should you die, of all your scraps of paper it alone may be worth one hundred cents on the dollar. In years to come it alone may be left to buy bread for your mother, your wife or your children. That "scrap of paper" represents the most sacred of your obligations. Respect for it is the measure of your honor. Keep it inviolate, whatever the cost.—Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, in Insurance Field.

Frank A. Coffin, Publicity Secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, returned from San Francisco Sunday. He is recuperating from a touch of grippe which sent him to the Sanitarium at Berkeley for a few days, but is now so nearly well that he expects to be at his office as usual this week.

Miss Rachel Blackburn has just arrived from Springfield, Ill., to spend the winter in Glendale, where she has spent several winters and feels very much at home. In the case of Yamiwaki, a Japanese who was arrested at 1:30 Monday morning for speeding on the San Fernando road, in whose car a big jug of wine was found, Judge Lowe imposed a fine of $50, when the case was heard before him Monday afternoon. The Judge says speed and wine is a bad combination to present in his court.

Leverett Goddard, whose parents reside on Park avenue, who is at Mare Island, writes that he is well and happy. He is taking training in the Electrical School and expects his commission as First Class Electrician in the near future. He is a member of the band and seems to enjoy the life very much. His sister Gladys went north in August and spent two weeks with him.

Mrs. C. E. Peck returned from the Imperial Valley last week when assured of her sons recovery. He is still in the hospital at El Centro but is improving. His wife is with him and as soon as he is equal to the journey he will be brought to Glendale to the home of his parents to recuperate. He had a very close call but has every prospect now of complete recovery. The attack of appendicitis which sent him to the hospital was very sudden as he had just passed a physical examination and been pronounced "fit" and was about to leave for camp.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Balthis have heard from their second son, William that he has passed all the entrance examinations to Stanford University and is now an enlisted soldier, being a member of the Students' Army Training Corps. His older brother, Douglas is in the famous Rainbow division and has been in France for nearly a year.

STATE NEWS

SACRAMENTO.—The state board of education plans the employment of a state supervisor of patriotic instruction, who will organize patriotic courses for public schools and shape patriotic school activities. The National Security League will pay the traveling expenses of such a supervisor.

LOS ANGELES.—Oberammergau is to be transplanted to Southern California. Such is the prophetic statement of Marie Mayer Becker, the Mary Magdalene of the last playing of the Passion Play in 1910. She is in this city to determine upon the locale for the solemn religious drama which she hopes may be performed in America at the conclusion of the war. This inspired artist who was born in the village of Oberammergau was trained from her early childhood for the part which one day was to be hers. She is an American citizen now and is exerting every effort to bring the great Passion Play to America. She has already gained the backing of many prominent United States citizens.

LOS ANGELES.—The ladies of Los Angeles are devising another way to figure in the war. Now a movement is under way to cast aside the corset. Several women's clubs have adopted the plan and figure camouflage will soon be in the discard. According to statistics and their compiler's American women carry around with them 30,000 tons of steel a year in their corset stays. Mrs. F. A. Blackburn is heartily in favor of the movement and as president of the Women's Citizenship Club, she has proposed it to that body. "I stand for a frank face and a frank figure," she said today. "The Grecian women have long been the criterion of beauty and grace and their bodies were entirely unhampered by steel stays and other barbaric accoutrements. But I would go further in this patriotic work and force women to stop paying fifty cents a week to have their eyebrows plucked and make them invest the money in Thrift Stamps."

BERKELEY, Cal.—The traffic along Bancroft Way is running smoothly again and there hasn't been any traffic jams for several days. It's all because the board of education has ordered that a high board fence, minus knotholes, be erected around the recreation field of the Berkeley High School where bloomer girls have been wont to take their recreation. The field is situated along Bancroft Way, where automobile traffic has been very heavy of late.

SACRAMENTO.—Joseph Squire of this city will be American Library Association representative at the state headquarters in San Francisco during the United War Work campaign for the national fund of $170,500,000. Following the drive, he will resume his duties at the capitol as state legislative librarian. Squire was in charge of the A. L. A. Library at Camp Kearny until recalled to Sacramento October 1.

SACRAMENTO.—The records of California men who help to make history in the world war are being recorded by the State Council of Defense. The council is preparing a card catalogue to handle the data. To date about 150,000 have been inducted or have volunteered in this state. As many more will be called in the new draft. Clippings from newspapers regarding California men will be saved and filed with the cards of those soldiers. Casualty reports on California soldiers and sailors—there have been about 700 to date, of which about a third are deaths—are being given particular attention. The facts regarding soldiers who enlisted in the allied armies prior to America's entrance into the war are being sought by the council to make records more complete. California, it is believed, is the first state to undertake the keeping of accurate records of her sons in service.

MARYSVILLE.—Superior Judge E. P. McDaniel, chairman of the Yuba division of the State Council of Defense, believes in practicing what he preaches. Judge McDaniel in his official position as chairman of the council, has been urging everyone to conserve. His Honor instead of riding to his office each day in his automobile, as he has been in the habit of doing, has purchased a bicycle on which he rides to his office now. "The automobile has been discarded until the war is over," said the Judge. "It's a luxury. I'll do without."

MARYSVILLE.—The first porcupine ever seen in Sutter county, according to the oldest inhabitants, has proven a ferocious one. The animal attacked J. O. Keyes, rancher, and his dog, filling them with quills. They stumbled on the animal in a neighbor's vineyard.

GERMANY'S INTERNAL TROUBLES

SOCIALIST CONGRESS CALLS FOR ABDICATION OF KAISER AND CROWN PRINCE—NEW CHANCELLOR RESIGNS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 15.—An unofficial Berlin report via the Hague says that Prince Max, German Chancellor, has resigned.

A Munich report via Zurich says the Socialist Congress at Munich unanimously passed a resolution calling for the abdication of the Kaiser and the Crown Prince.

Taken overseas as the mascot of a Calgary regiment and smuggled ashore in a bass drum, Fritz—a little sausage-shaped dog scientifically and Germanically known as a Dackshund—made a wonderful record in American and French military camps as a Red Cross worker. Hitched to an improvised boxcar he would waddle through the soldiers' quarters, receive their adoration and coin like a true sportsman, and drag his treasure box back to the Canadians promptly at mess hour. Some days he brought in as much as 200 francs.

There was nothing of the slacker about Fritz. When the time came to go over the top, he was right there with his beloved bunnies, the boys from Calgary. Just before the enemy front line trench was reached, a piece of shrapnel relieved Fritz of a leg, and with this loss to his abbreviated running gear he was forced to fall out of line. Missing after battle, the boys mourned their game little mascot as "gone west," but word was afterward received that Fritz now languishes (incommunicado) in a German prison. "Guess they're punishing him for his Red Cross work—or for being pro-Ally," grumbled the trooper who tells this story, a San Francisco boy now convalescing after several years' service with the Canadians. "But more than Heinie paid for it," was his ominous aftermath.

They Fight With Their Whole Souls

You are reading every day of our boys over there---of Pershing's divisions charging into the blasting fire of the Boche trenches; of small detachments smashing their way from house to house through ruined villages; of single-handed deeds of sacrifice and valor.

One thought, one impulse only fills their souls---to fight and keep on fighting, until the war is won.

They know that all America is back of them; they know that they can count on us at home to send them all the guns and supplies they need to win.

There Is Only One Way We Can Do It

All of us must work and save and buy Liberty Bonds, with our whole souls, the way our men are fighting over there!

No less will win. There is no other way to provide the money the Government MUST have. No other standard can make the Fourth Liberty Loan a Success.
